

Dear Parent/Guardian,

We are writing to you because we would like to gain a better understanding of our students' We are writing to you because we would like to gain a better understanding of young peoples' wellbeing so those working with them can improve the support that is provided.

To do this we want to collect views from all children in the relevant year groups at participating schools. We will do this by using online surveys once a year (for five years), starting in 2017.

We are asking you to help by allowing your child to participate.

Before you and your child decide whether you would like to take part, it is important for you to know what it will involve. Please take time to read the attached information sheet carefully and discuss it with others if you wish. If there is anything that is not clear, or if you would like more information, please do not hesitate to contact us.

The next few pages:

- 1) Tell you a bit about the research and what it involves for you and your child.
- 2) Asks you if you are happy for your child to participate.
- 3) Gives you a reply slip to fill in and send back to us if you do not want your child to take part.

If you are happy for your child to be involved in the research, you do not need to take any further action. If you DO NOT want your child to be involved in the research, the attached sheet tells you what to do.

If you have any questions please email us on HeadStart@annafreud.org or call us on 020 7443 2294.

Any personal information will be treated confidentially. The information will be treated as strictly confidential and handled in accordance with the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998.

Thank you for taking the time to read about our research.

Yours faithfully,

INFORMATION SHEET FOR PARENTS/CARERS

What is the study for?

This study tries to gain a better understanding of our students' wellbeing so that improvements can be made to the support them.

What is the duration of the research?

The research itself runs from September 2016 until the end of 2023. The surveys will take place yearly.

What will parents/guardians be asked to do?

We are asking for your permission for your child to complete a survey once a year for up to five years (the final time would be when your child is in Year 11). The survey asks questions about their school, friends, themselves and is not expected to take longer than 40 minutes to complete.

Who is being asked to take part?

All children at your child's school in year 7 this will be changed year on year due to the longitudinal nature of the study will be asked to take part in this research.

What will your child be asked to do?

The study will involve your child completing a short survey. The survey asks questions about their school, friends, and themselves, and is not expected to take longer than 40 minutes to complete. Before your child takes part in the questionnaires, their class teacher will read aloud information about the research and your child will be asked to tick a box if they are happy to take part in the research. We will not ask any identifiable information (such as names, addresses etc.).

The school will also give us information about pupil characteristics such as special education needs and deprivation.

What are the possible risks/disadvantages of taking part?

There are no known risks/disadvantages to taking part in this questionnaire. If any risks or disadvantages become known during the research, you and your child will be informed straight away. You can also get independent support and advice from a charity called Young Minds. Their parent helpline number is 0808 802 5544.

If you ever wish to make a formal complaint about the conduct of the research you should contact Dr. Jessica Deighton, Evidence Based Practice Unit (EBPU), UCL and the Anna Freud Centre, Jordan House, 47 Brunswick Place, London, N1 6EB.

Who has reviewed the research?

All research is looked at by an independent group of people, called a Research Ethics Committee, to protect your interests. This research has been approved by the UCL Research Ethics committee (UCL Ethics number: 8097/003).

What are the possible benefits of taking part?

There is no guaranteed benefit in taking part. Most people find taking part in research rewarding, as they contribute to the development of knowledge that may benefit other people in the future.

What data is the research using?

The research will use 2 types of data:

1. Child-reported survey;
 - This is to understand how children and young people about their school, friends, and themselves.
2. Information from the school:
 - About pupil characteristics, such as special educational needs and deprivation.

How will my child's data be stored and who will have access to it?

- All information will be treated strictly confidentially. The research team will ensure that the highest standards of confidentiality are maintained throughout.
- A member of the research team will have access to the identifiable data.
- Identifiable data will only be used to link the survey data to the school data mentioned above and also to link data across years. It won't be used to identify individual children.
- The website that houses the survey will be completely secure and password protected. All survey data will be stored on a secure and password protected server to which only senior members of the research team have access.
- Once the data is linked, it will be anonymized and the analysis will be carried out on the anonymized data.
- All data will be collected and stored in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.
- The information may be presented at conferences or used as part of academic publications and a student project. No information presented will identify any individuals involved.
